

BEST SELLING AUTHOR

JACKSON DUNBAR

ESQUIRE

BIOGRAPHY

Jackson Dunbar, Esq.

Author, Social Entrepreneur, Dad, Husband and Disabled American.

Welcome to the world of Jackson Dunbar, Esq., a black man making rounds in the Wellness industry as a social entrepreneur and now the author of Race Matters in Pain Medicine: How I Made Money, Lost 90lbs and Thrived in Chronic Pain. His singular mission is to help people take control of their life and gain Chronic Strength.

Uber successful Social Entrepreneur and Founder of WellMed Atlanta is a Philanthropist who strives to establish lucrative businesses that provide socially responsible goods and services. Mr. Dunbar takes pride in his champion spirit and never-say-die vision that enables him to thrive through unbearable circumstances. Always willing to teach, Jackson Dunbar has built an empire on meeting adversity head on and solving the seemingly unsolvable obstacles that would have stunted the growth of anyone vulnerable to the odds. He can't wait to share with the world this unmitigated truth...YOUR CIRCUMSTANCES DO NOT DEFINE YOU. THEY CATAPULT YOU INTO A BRAND NEW LUCRATIVE NORMAL.

Jackson Dunbar is proud of his "Blue Collar" roots. The son of a custodian and seamstress, he was the first man of his family to graduate from college – Stockton University. He would later receive a Juris Doctor from Tulane University Law School and an MBA from Thunderbird School of Global Management.

JACKSON DUNBAR, ESQ

Founder of WellMed Foundation
Plants His Interests in the Essence of Humanity

MAKING AN IMPACT IN OUR COMMUNITY

The WellMed Foundation was created to “fight” for our local public schools. We create community-based programs to generate revenue that is used to buy needed computer equipment, offer teacher bonuses and infrastructure improvements to local public schools in need. We also invest in curriculum enhancements in mental health and business education. The Business Ministry and Minds Matter[®] are programs that will help children and young adults become thriving citizens and shine a light on the importance of our local public schools.

The WellMed Foundation is a 501(c)(3) corporation.

JACKSON DUNBAR, ESQ.

There's no other way to change the future of our people but by enhancing the quality of the education of children and providing support for their mental health...

Jackson Dunbar, Esq's story of resilience is steadily catching the attention of national media as he strives to spread the message of racial disparities in the distribution of pain medications, as well as his struggle to combat his life's worse interruption.

WHEN DISCOVERY TURNS LITERARY

RACE MATTERS
IN PAIN MEDICINE

Best Selling Author

From foremost thinker on mental health, investment solutions and expert in pain management

How I Made Money, Lost 90 Lbs., and Thrived In Chronic Pain

JACKSON DUNBAR, ESQ.

There are 50 million people who suffer with chronic pain.
And Jackson Dunbar discovered a sad reality and raw truth. There's racism in the distribution of pain medicine.

Jackson Dunbar, Esq. is a Disabled American, who suffers with Chronic Pain. During his journey to become healthy, provide for his family and fight Chronic Pain; he discovered severe inequities in Pain Medicine. Resulting in the critical undermedication of African Americans, who must "live" with unbearable Chronic Pain; and the severe over medication of White Americans, which became a cause of the Opioid Crisis.

A successful Entrepreneur, job creator and strong believer in Self Help. Jackson Dunbar Esq. applied solutions-focused "business logic" to his own health-the results: He was able to lose 90lbs. Make Money and Thrive with Chronic Pain. His strategies are contained in this book for every Chronic Pain patient to explore.

Mr. Dunbar believes that Chronic Pain patients- no matter their race or background-experience permanent loss, frustration with government regulations that "hurt us" and medical procedures that don't get the job done! He believes this "shared experience" makes all Chronic Pain patients "Brothers and Sisters in Pain!"

